

CLASS OF 2019 CRUSADER OF THE MONTH

Noah Keenan Jacobs

MONTH HONORED: October 2018

Noah was selected by Mrs. Deb Charron and Mrs. Kelly Dornbos

Noah is a natural leader in so many ways, and it stems from his character. Aristotle once said that “Character may almost be called the most effective means of persuasion.” Noah is proof that strong character and determination, coupled with subtle humor, is a formula for success.

Noah’s passion for learning is another trait that is so remarkable. He has challenged himself academically, pursuing the toughest course of studies that MCC offers. He does not complain about the workload, and he eagerly accepts any challenge placed before him. He works meticulously and thoroughly. He is persistent in his pursuit to understand what he is doing. He has a knack for thinking in the logical, analytical thought processes necessary to be successful in a strong academic environment. He reads constantly to be better versed in so many academic areas. His analytical astuteness is awe-inspiring. He is a National Merit Semifinalist, which clearly indicates his passion and retention for knowledge. Noah is truly an academic role model for the entire Muskegon Catholic Central community.

Outside of the classroom, Noah is an excellent role model for our younger students. He is passionately involved in student life at MCC. He is a strong leader in our student government and his work ethic is exemplary. Every task he takes on will be thoroughly completed in a timely fashion. He is the student that you can count on. He is actively involved in the school musical, the athletic programs, and our service programs, always striving to ‘make a difference’ in our community. It has been a pleasure to be part of Noah’s educational experience – to watch him develop into the outstanding person he has become.

In closing, Noah Jacobs has spent his academic years working hard in the areas of academics, sports, clubs, and volunteerism; he is an awesome example of a “scholarly” student. Noah has worked actively to make the MCC community a better place. He is a person of strong convictions who demonstrates immeasurable compassion.

Noah is planning on studying economics at Yale, and we are certain he will make a positive impact in his field of study. He is the son of Jeff and Shelly Jacobs.
